A mountain hiking trip in Ras Al Khaimah

As part of enhancing social interaction and the spirit of sportsmanship among students, the Deanship of Student Affairs at Al Ain University, on both campuses in Al Ain and Abu Dhabi, organized a Hiking trip to the emirate of Ras Al Khaimah. The trip witnessed enthusiastic participation from students, filled with exciting moments, challenges, and adventures. The journey was supervised by a team of expert guides and student activity supervisors from the deanship.

The trip included navigating through scenic mountain trails, interspersed with interactive activities along the way to create an atmosphere of fun and excitement among the students. The itinerary also featured recreational physical activities such as horseback riding, running, jumping, and various entertaining games. Students expressed their admiration for the organization of the trip and the opportunity it provided them to interact with their peers in a non-traditional environment.
